may tell you that for the last ten days I have hardly been able to contain myself, enraged was I by certain statements ich reached my ears. I can only regret it unfortuantely dueling is not now permitted in England. Of course, a man of my size, were I to assault Oscar Wilde, who weighs fifteen or sixteen stone, would have had no chance against him, but it would have effected my object, which was to bring the matter before the public. There to bring the matter before the public. There is another thing you may say, and that is that I desire more than anything else to get him out of the country. Some time ago he talked of going to live in France, but he has not gone there, or, at all events, has not taken up a residence there permanently. I, of course, have no direct proof of Wilde's guilt, for, under the circumstances, that is impossible. It is enough for me to know that the matter has been of late so generally known that it may of late so generally known that it may be fairly termed a topic of common gos-

GOSSIP OF LONDON TOWN.

Influenza, the Queen's Drawing Room and the Blackballing of Rhodes. LONDON, March 9 .- The weather and the epidemic of influenza have been moderating recently, although thousands of houses are still without water as a result of frozen pipes, and many thousands of people are suffering from the prevailing malady. The present epidemic of influenza has been more severely felt in London than in any other part of the country and the death rate has risen during the past week from 21 per thousand, the normal rate, to 38.5 per thousand, a remarkably high record. Lord Rosebery, it now appears, has been more seriously ill than was generally imagined, and, it is added, he is improving very slowly. Among the other distinguished sufferers is Baroness Burdett-Coutts. The Home Secretary, Mr. Henry Asquith, has recovered from his attack; Mr. Henry Fowler, the Secretary of State for Indian Affairs, is confined to his rooms; the Marchioness of Salisbury, who has been suffering from in-the Duchess of Sutherland is down with an attack of the same disease. The Queen's drawing room at Buckingham Palace on Wednesday showed the effect of the influenza epidemic, for the usual attendance was considerably reduced. At the drawing room, by the way, it was noticed that pirk and blue were the prevailing colors in the toilettes, although mauve satin was greatly worn. The weather was so cold that it drove the public away from the hall, and generally speaking, the func-tion was far from being a brilliant one. Many rumors have been circulated regard-ing the absence of the Princess of Wales from the drawing room, but the general opinion seems to be that the failure of the Princess to be present. Princess to be present on that occasion was the result of feeble health, and the fact that she was desirous of not exposing herself to cold or incurring the attendant failure.

In club circles this week there has been much comment on the sensation caused, first by the blackballing of the Hon. Cecil Rhodes, Premier of Cape Colony, at the Travelers' Club, and, secondly, at the fact that the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Fife, his son-in-law, and Earl Grey, have resigned their membership of that club, thereby giving a damaging blow at its prestige. The blackballing of Mr. Rhodes, following closely on the refusal of the Marlborough Club to elect Mr. Beit, the south African millionaire and a partner of Mr. Rhodes in the De Beers diamond mines, is giving club men a lot to talk about. The Marlborough is the favorite club of the Prince of Wales, and nobody is proposed for membership there until his name has first been submitted to the Prince. To make matters uglier, Mr. Beit, it will be remembered, was proposed by the Duke of Fife. The Prince, when he heard that Mr. Beit had been blackballed, offered to have him renominated, but the south African millionaire declined.

Following the suit brought by Sir William Eden, in Paris, against James McNelll Whistler, the former seeking to force the artist to deliver Lady Eden's portrait, and to pay £40 damages for delaying the delivery, Mr. Whistler has begun letterwriting on the subject. In the Pall Mall Gazette he says: "It is curious and, in an unchristian way, pleasant to note how a thrifty Macenas who, through life, surely never gave anything away, now, at the sweet singing of an insinuating secretary bird, unreservedly and ungrudgingly gives away himself." Whisler also says: "The case goes to show that a few ancestors, way himself." Foreigners at Ylen Kow Safe. YOKOHAMA, March 9.-The latest news received from the Orient is that the Japanese have occupied Kokan without opposition. Yien-Kow, the New Chwang settlement, was captured by the first division of the second army. The coast forts about New Chwang are still holding out. The first and second Japanese armies effected a junction at Yien-Kow. The Chinese army, commanded by General Sung, has retired to Tien-Chuang-Tai. It is officially announced that the safety of the foreigners at Yien-Kow has been guaranteed by the Japanese, who are inquiring into the personal injuries which they have sustained. The foreign settlement is guarded by Japanese troops, the British and American war ships, the Firebrand and Petrel, respectively, leaving their protection in the hands of the Japanese.

GRESHAM FINALLY PROTESTS.

France Informed that American Cattle Are Not Diseased. LONDON, March 9 .- A dispatch to the Times from Paris says that on Wednesday last American Embassador Eustis handed to M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, an official protest against the action of France in excluding American cattle. The protest affirmed that not a single case user recuir either when cattle had been embarked or when they had been landed in France. The American government thinks that the prohibition is purely a protectionist movement, and that the question of disease is a mere pretext, and probably protests, not because it disputes the right of France to adopt what-ever decision she chooses, but because the pretext constitutes a grave injury to American interests by tending to confirm the rumor that there is disease among Amer-ican cattle, thus inducing their exclusion

Britain's Postal Telegrah Unprofitable LONDON, March 9 .- An examination of the estimates submitted to the House of Commons for the operation of the British postal telegraph department for the year ending March 31, 1895, shows a growing deficiency. The actual deficit for the year previous was about $2,400,000. This amount included $1,500,000, the annual interest charges on stock created for the purchase of the telegraphs. The deficit for the current year, including the same charges, is estimated to be $2,700,000, or an increase of $300,000, although the gross receipts from telegrams are expected to show an increase of about $450,000.

THE FOREIGN STAGE

VAN BIENE, IN "THE BROKEN MEL-ODY," COMING TO AMERICA.

Benjamin Moyer Shot in the Leg and People in Two Villages Had to Dodge the Desperado's Bullets.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DECATUR, Ind., March 9 .- Word has just reached this city that Linn Grove, a small town three and one-half miles south of here, was "taken" by a desperado, a la Jesse James, early last evening. An unknown man, riding a Texas pony, and dressed in cowboy fashion, with a pair of revolvers in his belt and one in his hand, rode up to the door of Heller, Runyon & Co.'s store and ordered the proprietors to come out. A clerk answered his will, when the cowboy demanded money. The clerk notified him he had none. He then called for other occupants of the store to come out, and on their failing to comply with his demand he fired several shots at them through the windows, but no one was hurt. He then rode to the store of Benjamin Moyer, where he also demanded money. Moyer, with the muzzle of a revolver staring him in the face, gave the desperado what money he had in his pockets. He then rode away, but turned in his saddle and shot Moyer, the bullet striking him in the hip, inflicting a dangerous wound. The cowboy then rode through the street at a rapid rate, firing at every one in sight, and was gone. He passed through Domestic, another small town about two miles east, where he terrorized the citizens in east, where he terrorized the citizens in the same manner. He is a total stranger, and the general opinion is that he is an escaped inmate from some insane asylum Officers are now pursuing him.

REDEEMING GAS WELLS.

Device for Forcing Out Salt Water

That Works Perfectly. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., March 9 .- Anderson gas companies and in fact all gas-well people are at present intensely interested in the result of the restoration of a "drowned" gas well in this city yesterday by the appliance of a devise which William Decker and sons, the veteran gas-well drillers of the State; have recently invented. Well No. 3, of the Citizens' Gas Company, was sold more than a year ago to the Anderson foundry and machine works. Its pressure gradually weakened by the influx of salt water till the gauge registered but little above 100 pounds. Last week the pressure dropped rapidly and on Monday morning the well was not showing an ounce of gas. The Deckers inserted a three-quarter inch pipe to which was attached an automatic valve with a section of perforated pipe and forced gas in the well, piped from an adjoining line. In a few minutes the water was blown out and the gauge at the separator rose till it was almost at the 200 notch. The apparatus works like a syphon, and as rapidly as the water comes in it is carried out. The factory, which had been forced to burn coal, factory, which had been forced to burn coal, for three days is now using gas from the well and its rock pressure is greater than it was two years ago. Hundreds of citizens and gas experts from surrourding towns are flocking here to see the reciaimed well. Mr. Decker told the Journal correspondent that he was confident he could redeem fully half of the abandoned wells. half of the abandoned wells.

RALPH O. BATES'S STORY. Frankfort G. A. R. Man Who Helped Hang Wertz Gives a Lecture.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKFORT, Ind., March 9.-Ralph O. Bates, employed in a handle factory in this city, has a remarkable history. When a mere lad he enlisted in Company H, Ninth Regiment Ohio Cavalry. On Nov. 14, 1862, he was taken prisoner, and up to his escape March 2, 1964, from Andersonville, he had been confined in seven of the largest rebel prisons, including Libby, Danville, Savannah, Macon and Andersonville. While Savannah, Macon and Andersonville, While at Andersonville he was shot three times by the prison commander, Captain Wertz. After his escape from Andersonville he and a comrade were eight days in reaching the Union lines. On telling their experience to General Sherman, Bates and his comrade were sent as an object lesson to Abraham Lincoln, that the President might see how Union soldier prisoners were used. Lincoln received Bates in his own home and cared for him for twelve days. Bates then weighed only fifty-eight pounds. He afterward had the pleasure of being a witness at Captain Wertz's trial and seeing him hung. Bates has prepared a lecture him hung. Bates has prepared a lecture based on the history of his life, and delivered it under the auspices of the G. A. R. of this city to-night.

The Betts-Bourie Wedding. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 9 .- Fort Wayne society was much surprised last evening to learn that at Grace Church, New York city had just been celebrated the marriage of Miss Adele Edna Bourie, one of the belles of this city, and Mr. Chas. Everett Betts, of Sidney, O. Witnesses to the ceremony were Mrs. J. W. Fowler, of Washington, D. C., sister of the bride, and her husband. Immediately after the cere-mony the wedding party was tendered a wedding dinner at the Waldorf. A week ago the bride left this city to visit her sister at Washington, and the expected nup tials were known only to the bride's rela tives here. The groom was formerly a resi dent of Fort Wayne and was the business manager of the Fort Wayne branch of the American wheel works, but is now engaged in New York city.

MINERS ARE JUBILANT.

Several Big Operators Have Agreed to Pay the Scale. PITTSBURG, March 9.- The miners of the Pittsburg district are jubilant over the bright prospects which confront them, and predict their victory in the strike for higher wages. This morning W. P. Rend, the Chicago operator, at whose mines on the Panhandle railroad there are over seven hundred men employed, granted the demands of his men for 69 cents per ton and they have returned to work. As all coal mined at these mines is shipped and none goes to the local market the miners feel they have gained a point. J. M. Risner, who employs two hundred men at his mines on the Monongahela river, also granted the increase this morning and work at the mines was resumed. Three more Panhandle operators have announced that on Monday their men will be granted the sixty-nine-cent rate, work to begin at once. The firms are Jesse Sandford, Morris McCue and the Miller's Run Coal Company. Secretary Warner, of the Miners' Union, to-night predicts that on Monday there will be at least five thousand men at work at the advance The scale committee of the Operators' Association held a meeting to-day to discuss the situation. No report of the proceedings was given out, but it was learned that they decided to call a general meeting of the as-sociation soon. This is also regarded as an evidence of weakness on the part of the employers.

STORY FOR MARINES.

A Girl Who Claims to Have Served on a War Ship in Boy's Clothes.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 9 .- A remarkable story is published here of a girl who served on the United States coast defense vessel Monterey for seven weeks, disguised as a boy. According to the girl's story she was born in St. Cloud, Minn., fifteen years was born in St. Cloud, Minn., fifteen years ago. Her name is May Townsend. Last year the girl married a brick mason named Love, but she pined for the sea, and, donning boy's attire, enlisted as a plumber's apprentice on the Monterey. According to her story, three of the officers knew her sex; also the plumber. She says she sailed to Portland and then to San Francisco on the Monterey. The plumber finally put her ashore, because he thought her secret would be discovered. The girl also claims to have been on the Mohican and the independence, but this is not believed.

made no attempt at escape. All he asked was that they make no fuss about it. He wore one of the mildest looks that ever a man possessed. He was known in Louis-ville as the "dude burgiar," and worked as a tailor, reporter and artist. Feb. 14, 1889, he burglarized a music store in Louisville and right after that came a succession of rebberies, all of which were traced to him. He was known there as John A. Heine

There were four charges of burglary against him, and he was convicted and sentenced for two terms of three years each on two charges, and the others were held over. He now owes the State of Kentucky four weeks and held the state of Kentucky four years and a half. He was taken to the penitentiary at Frankfort, and on April 15, 1890, he escaped by scaling the wall.

Bloodhounds were put on his track, and he was recaptured on the 19th of the same month. His next attempt at escape was on Sept. 3, 1890. He climbed the wall in broad daylight and that time got away. In 1892 he stole a tray of diamonds at Wheeler &

Wilson's pawn shop in Rochester, N. Y., and was captured. For that he was given three years in Elmira. His father was for seven years captain on the Cincinnati police force. The prisoner was probably betrayed Destitute Newfoundlanders Relieved ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 9.—The work of relieving the destitute inhabitants of this island commenced this morning. The rerelieving the destitute inhabitants of this island commenced this morning. The relief goods which recently arrived from Boston were opened and the several religious denominations, irrespective of creed, accepted their share and immdiately set about supplying the wanting families with the actual necessities of life. From the outposts came delegates, all of whom were turned over to the reverend gentlemen representing the several denominations, and resenting the several denominations, and from reports up to nightfall the hearts of many must have been gladdened by the substantial assistance rendered by the people of New England.

La Bretagne's Titled Passengers. NEW YORK, March 9.- The Countes Divyone, who is the daughter of Mrs. Audeneyed, of Washington, D. A Family of Sixty-Eight. MONTEAL, March 9.—The Central Vermont railway yesterday ticketed a family from Three Rivers to New Hampshire. It consisted of great grandfather, grandfather, grandmother, father, mother, sisters and brothers and children—sixty-eight in all. They were all of the same name, all in good health and left Canada, they said, to make a home in the States, because they could not succeed here.

Bad Money at Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, March 9.-Counterfeiters have been "shoving" bad money on the people of this city at a great rate during the past week. The bad coins are of the denomination of dollars and quarters and are such good imitations that they have been accepted by some of the banks. The coins have a coating of silver and are almost up to the standard weight.

The present incumbent had charge of the placing of this machinery in the building; has had (as I understand) charge of it and experience with it for twelve or thirteen years. No one questions his efficiency as such officer. Now, has not the Journal's course been to advocate civil-service? Has not the Republican Legislature passed measures (the ink in the records of which are scarcely yet dry) providing that no man shall be employed in the institutions named therein upon other grounds than fitness for the service required by the State, and that no honorable and efficient officer shall be discharged because of his political affiliations. The present engineer was elected by the Legislature for four years, two years of which he has not yet served. Considering the importance of the office, as to the service and experience required; the efficiency of the engineer, and the petty matter of "spolls" involved, is not the Journal willing to admit that no more fitting opportunity can be named as a place or occasion to begin the operation of those principles of "merit" or "civil-service" somuch advocated in its columns as a guide the Republican party. Nasty codliver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophos-phites had also been faithfully tried in vain.
